

Climbing garden Spullerplatten

CLIMBING WALL/FIXED ROPE ROUTE

📍 Stierlochweg, 6752 Dalaas

Rock climbing above the Spullersee

Detailed description

Directions: Take the Lech local bus, car or bike on the Zugertal toll road to Spullersee.

Access: From the bus stop at Spullersee, walk along the hiking trail towards Ravensburger Hütte. The Spullerplatten climbing garden is divided into the 'Untere Spullerplatten' and 'Obere Spullerplatten'. They are located in the flat rocks on the left-hand side on the path towards Ravensburger Hütte.

The orientation of the climbing wall to the south-east provides the necessary warmth for enjoyable climbing even in spring. The Ravensburger Hütte and the Spullersee are only around 20 minutes away. The Spullerplatten are probably one of the most interesting climbing gardens in the Lechquellengebirge.
