PLACE OF EXCURSIONS FOR FAMILIES/CHILDREN

📍 Boden 50, 6731 Sonntag-Buchboden

Leisurely hikes, sporting activities and listening to special sounds.

Detailed description

The sound space is an interactive project that explores nature and its soundscape. Artistic installations accompany you on the hiking trail to the echo wall - inviting you to listen, enjoy or help shape the soundscape. A unique experience for young and old.

The covered barbecue area in Steinbild offers a brick-built barbecue area, table and benches and a fountain with fresh water. The special feature of the barbecue area is the clay oven, in which a specially created clay oven pizza can be baked, available at the Sonntag cable car mountain station. Another highlight is the new adventure playground right next to the barbecue area with water games and a special cave in an old lime kiln.

With a great adventure playground!

The inspiration for the project lies in the unique nature itself. The objects create a framework for nature in order to emphasise its special features. The project is in the field of land art and landscape architecture. Natural corroding materials are deliberately used to blend in and become one with the environment over time. Inspiring artists were, for example, John Cage and other acoustic artists who endeavoured in their projects to negate the production of noise in order to present the silence, the unavoidable background noise as the actual experience.
